Paragraph 1 – The Sirius code of Virtual Reality – The dream about the loose.
As archangel Michael within the dream reality supervened about the condition.

As a dream at night a realm of far away, we call humans with a similar kind of technology as electronics, as being energy made of light, and the structural composition of current day technology.

As their advancements were of higher kind, as virtual reality call a dream world they daily entered to have their pleasure and the boundaries of fantasy. They did not invoke by thinking, nor seeing in their mind but by the use of a computer and a visual appliance to enter and see as thye choose the programs as given by their index.

As this appliance, their dreams right at hand, they had a chance in the triple that souls got lost and in the dream world did disappear. As they had the Sirius code watching over and guarding the souls in the dreamworld immersed. As this Sirius code gave them all a voice command to leave the dreamworld at ance. As this Sirius code specifically gave the origin of the feeling of being in charge.

As this appliance, the dream world made of electrons, photons, and the dreams to choose by their index. As they pay for it in currentday credits, and to use the dreamworld as we would watch the television. As the Sirius Code is for this story the boundary of reason. The boundary of a choice for the dreamworld to loose their rights, or the dreamworld to come back in one piece.
